

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Any success requires the effort of many people and my project work is no different.

I fell myself fortune in having the privilege to express any deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my project guide Azad Hossain (H.O.D) of the computer software technology, Sheikhpara Abdur Rahaman Memorial Polytechnic for developing the concepts, giving company in all the steps, providing fruitful suggestions and all the facilities for carrying out the entire project out the entire project work. His ideology, guidance and encouragement in systematic completion of my project work would inevitably reflect like a mirror in all steps of my career.

I would like to convey my thanks to Sir Sofikul Islam (O.I.C), Sir Azad Hossain and Sir Animesh Mondol to help us make this project successful.

I also would like convey my thanks to my classmates and lab assistances for their undeniable help encouragement and company during the thesis work. The word of thanks are only a token of my true application for all they have done to make my thesis in the present shape.

Last but not least; I am grateful to my family members and near and dear ones for their blessing and support.
